GROUP DISCUSSION COMPETITION

A Report on the "Group Discussion Competition" held at the PG Department of Brindavan College on 24th February 2016 at the MBA, MCA — Block
— Seminar Hall. Faculty Coordinator For the Event Prof. Shakeela Banu

What is a Group Discussion?

Group discussion is an important activity in academic, business and administrative spheres. It is a systematic and purposeful interactive oral process. Here the exchange of ideas, thoughts and feelings take place through oral communication. The exchange of ideas takes place in a systematic and structured way. The participants sit facing each other almost in a semi-circle and express their views on the given topic/issue/problem.

How does Group Discussion differ from a Debate?

Debate is competitive in nature while group discussion is a co-operative group process. In a debate, a speaker can speak either 'for' the topic or 'against' the topic whereas in a GD, the speaker can express both. The final decision or result in a debate depends on voting while in a GD, the group reaches group consensus.

A Report on "Our Voice" Round 3 : Debate organized by The Firm Club on 6.9.2016

The first round of "Our Voice" was Pick & Speak, held on Tuesday the 5th of September. Candidates had 1 minute to prepare on a random topic, given on the spot, and had 1 minute to speak about the topic. Out of 33 candidates, 20 were chosen to proceed to the next round.

The next round was held on the 8th of September in the Seminar Hall, from 02:00 to 04:00. It saw the 30 candidates being put in 5 groups of 6 participants. A group was given a topic and the candidates had 1 minute each to present their views on that topic. Moreover, after that 1 minute each, they had a total of 5 minutes to discuss further points and to counter-argument each other.

The final round was held on the 11th of September in the UG Building's Seminar Hall, from 02:00 to 04:00. From the 20 candidates of Round 2, 8 finalists were chosen for the Debate Round. They were put in 2 groups of 4 and given 2 different topics. Professor Shanker and Professor Murthy presided over as the judge for the Debate Round.

Objectives

- To foster critical thinking and listening skills. Students involved in Speech & Debate develop higher-level thinking skills through application, analysis, synthesis, evaluation and creativity. They come to understand what they believe about the issues that confront them in our culture and why.
Increased problem-solving abilities and overall academic performance. Various studies have shown that students who regularly participate in speech and debate activities tend to perform better than their peers in academic studies and tests.
- To develop Research skills. Speech and debate students learn more about their world and current affairs, its policies and value system which affect them and their communities as a whole.
- To encourage Impromptu thinking and speaking.

- To build confidence under pressure. Very often, students engaged in debates have to present compelling responses under pressure and should not waver on their points. Such situations provide a stimulus for building confidence under pressure, a skill which is crucial to survive in one's professional life.

Event Procedure

- Out of the 8 finalists, 2 groups of 4 students each were formed. The 2 groups each had their own distinct topics. From Group A, 2 students had to debate for and 2 students had to debate against. Each had 2 minutes to present their views. After the 4 candidates spoke, they had now 8 more minutes to debate between themselves. Once the deliberation was over, the Best Speaker was chosen from Group A. The same procedure ensued for Group B and another Best Speaker was chosen.
- The 2 Best Speakers were then given another topic on the spot and had 2 minutes each to present their views. The final leg of Round 3 consisted of 5 minutes of debate between the 2 speakers, out of which a winner was declared. A Question & Answer session also ensued throughout the debate, whereby the audience had the opportunity to ask questions to the participants regarding their debate topics.

The HOD of the Science Department Prof. Murthy was the judge for this round. The participants came from different streams of various semesters: 1st, 3rd, and 5th Semester students of BBA, B.Com and BCA.

Objectives

- A GD round is ideally conducted in order to understand a candidates interpersonal skills. Since group discussions in an interview involve discussing topics with individuals you have never interacted with before, how well you're able to put across your point and are able to lead a discussion is judged upon, based on which how you can work in a team or lead them can be easily assessed.
- It also portrays to the interviewer a side of your attitude which you might probably display in your workplace.
- GD not only improves your listening skills, but also increases your confidence in speaking and helps you mould your attitude according to each group. Further, it also improves your ability to think critically and helps in problem solving.

Event Procedure

A group was given a topic and the candidates had 1 minute each to present their views on that topic. Moreover, after that 1 minute each, they had a total of 5 minutes to discuss further points and to counter-argument each other. The student is then assessed on 5 criteria of: Fluency, Body Language, Content, Presentation and Involvement in Discussion.

A Report on "Our Voice" Round 1: Pick & Speak organized by The Firm Club on 1.9.2017

The first round of "Our Voice" was Pick & Speak, held on Friday the 1st of September between 11.15 and 13.00 at the Seminar Hall of the new U.G building. Our Voice consists of 3 rounds, namely Pick & Speak, Group Discussion and Debate. Mrs. Asra Suha was the judge for this round. The HOD of the Commerce & Management Department, Mr. Robert Utarid, as well as other teachers from the same department, was present for this event. The participants came from different streams of various semesters: 1st, 3rd, and 5th Semester students of BBA, B.Com and BCA.

Objectives

The main aim of this event is to provide a platform whereby students can overcome their stage fright. This 1 minute speaking in front of an audience is very often a new and stressful experience for the candidate. Indeed, this event pushes the person out of his comfort zone and makes him talk in front of an audience. Moreover, it makes the candidate to think on the spot, a feat that he will inevitably have to repeat many times in their professional life. Such activities are those small and yet significant steps to help an individual hone his public and corporate communication skills.

A Report on "Our Voice" Round 2: Group Discussion organized by The Firm Club on 4.9.2017

The participants came from different streams of various semesters: 1st, 3rd, and 5th Semester students of BBA, B.Com and BCA.

Objectives

- A GD round is ideally conducted in order to understand a candidates interpersonal skills. Since group discussions in an interview involve discussing topics with individuals you have never interacted with before, how well you're able to put across your point and are able to lead a discussion is judged upon, based on which how you can work in a team or lead them can be easily assessed.
- It also portrays to the interviewer a side of your attitude which you might probably display in your workplace.
- GD not only improves your listening skills, but also increases your confidence in speaking and helps you mould your attitude according to each group. Further, it also improves your ability to think critically and helps in problem solving.

A report on Teacher's Day Celebrations on the 5.9.2017

Teachers can change lives with just the right mix of chalk and challenges. – J. Meyer

Teacher's Day celebrations were held with great pomp and enthusiasm on the 5th of September at Brindavan College. While the Post Graduate held their celebrations in the MBA Building, the Under Graduate department held theirs in the seminar hall of the UG Building. It started at 2 pm and lasted till 4pm. It was the first Teacher's Day celebrations in the new UG building for the BBA, B.Com and BCA students, and they sure made it an unforgettable and lovely experience.

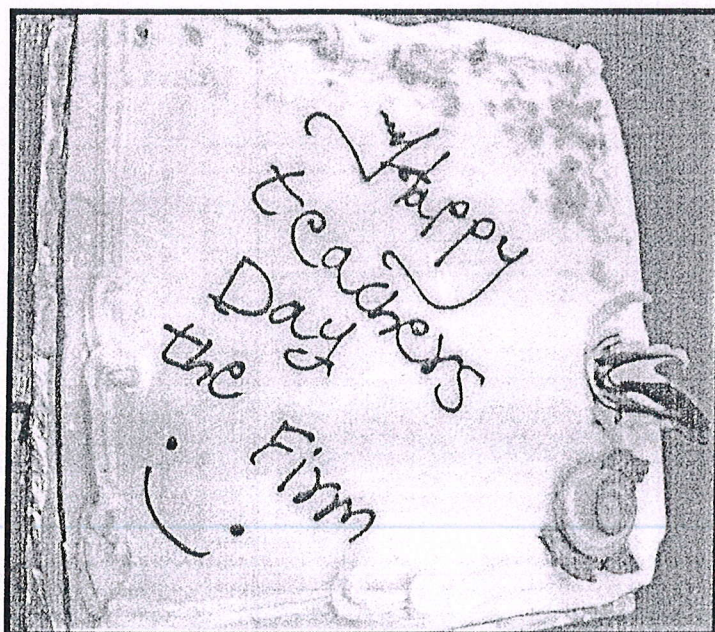

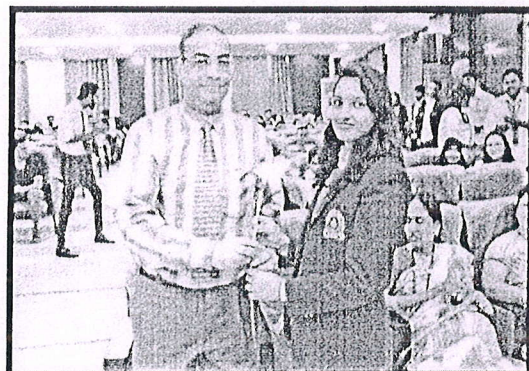

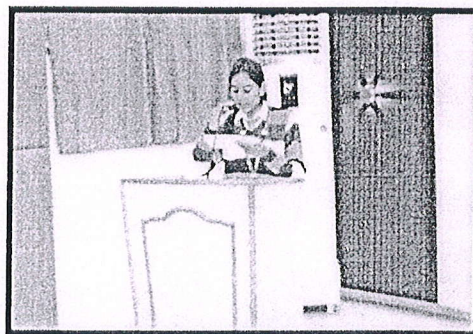

Students from all the UG departments, i.e. BBA, BCA, and B.Com, gathered in the seminar hall at 2 pm. It was going to be a first and unique type of celebration since each class and club were going to celebrate in their own ways and that too in front of all their peers. Each class and club was given 15-25 minutes. Once all the teachers, Heads of various Departments, the Principal – Mrs. Naema Sultana, and the Director – Mr. Arif Pasha took their seats, the event started.

The Commerce & Management Club – The Firm was the one to inaugurate the celebrations. Each of the board members gave a speech for a particular teacher as well as flower as a token of appreciation. The speeches were full of warmth and respect towards the respective teachers. A gift – a scroll of appreciation - was also awarded to all the teachers on behalf of the Firm Club. The event was then graced by the inspiring speeches of the Principal and Director.

The Firm Club's celebrations concluded with the cutting of a delicious triple-cheese cake. It was indeed lovely moments full of happiness and masti that students and teachers will cherish for years to come.

A Report on "Saving Rivers for the Future Generation". "Rally For Rivers" – A Motivational Talk by Representatives of ISHA FOUNDATION – 6th September 2017.

Our Rivers Are Dying

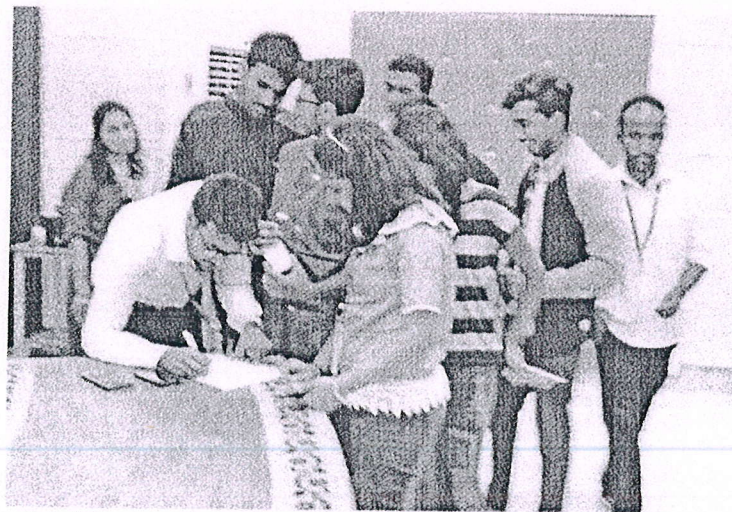

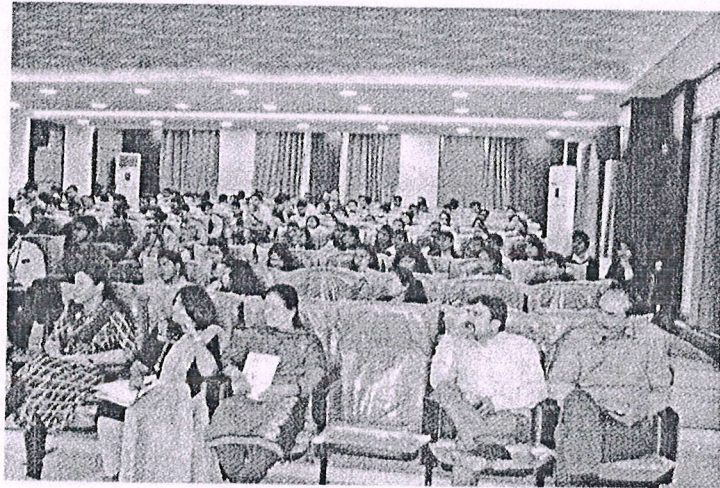

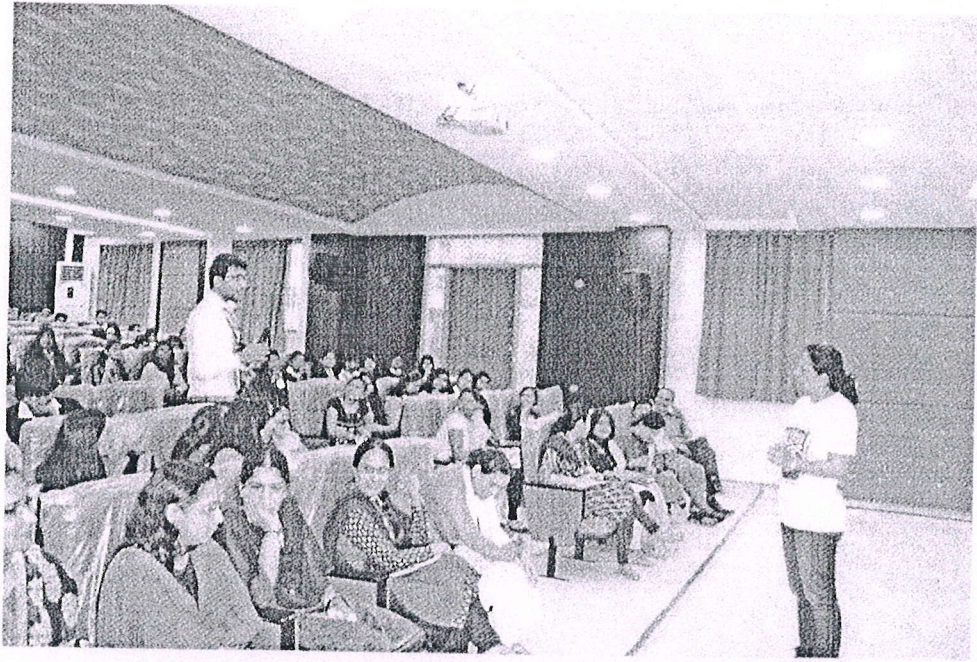

Ganga, Krishna, Narmada, Kaveri – many of our great rivers are depleting fast. If we do not act now, the legacy we hand over to the next generation will be one of conflict and deprivation. These rivers nurtured and nourished us for thousands of years. It is time we nurture and nourish them back to health. The simplest solution to rejuvenate India's rivers is to maintain a minimum of one kilometer tree cover on riversides. Forest trees can be planted on government land and tree-based agriculture brought in on farm land. This will ensure our rivers are fed throughout the year by the moist soil. This will also reduce floods, drought and soil loss, and increase farmers' incomes.

This was a sensitizing talk given by the representatives of the ISHA Foundation. Students of the UG Campus from the B.COM, BCA and BBA Stream, along with faculty members attended this session.

The session was highly motivating and an eye opener to all students and staff.

During the Session students and staff were asked to give a missed call supporting the cause. It was very inspiring that all of our students and staff supported the cause with zeal. Many students volunteered to attend the mega rally in Bengaluru.

Objectives

- To foster critical thinking and listening skills. Students involved in Speech & Debate develop higher-level thinking skills through application, analysis, synthesis, evaluation and creativity. They come to understand what they believe about the issues that confront them in our culture and why.
- Increased problem-solving abilities and overall academic performance. Various studies have shown that students who regularly participate in speech and debate activities tend to perform better than their peers in academic studies and tests.
- To develop Research skills. Speech and debate students learn more about their world and current affairs, its policies and value system which affect them and their communities as a whole.
- To encourage Impromptu thinking and speaking.
- To build confidence under pressure. Very often, students engaged in debates have to present compelling responses under pressure and should not waver on their points. Such situations provide a stimulus for building confidence under pressure, a skill which is crucial to survive in one's professional life.

Round 2 – Turn the Coat

The next round was held on the Friday 16th of February in the UG Building's Seminar Hall, from 14:00 to 16:00. Turn the Coat or Turncoat is an interesting format of debate where the speaker literally debates against himself. The speaker starts by taking a stance on the topic and switches sides after a specific duration of time or by taps. There may be multiple taps at regular or irregular intervals.

The candidate was called on stage and requested to select a chit of paper on which a specific topic was written. The candidate then had 5 mins to prepare on his assigned topic. He then had to come on stage and argue the pros and cons of that topic for duration of 3 minutes, during which a referee called for a 'switch' of stance at regular intervals (approx. 40 seconds). The student is then assessed on 4 criteria of: Fluency, Body Language, Content, and Presentation.

The event was judged by Mrs Sneha Singh and Mr Angel Chakraborty. The HOD of the Commerce & Management Department, Mr. Robert Utarid, as well as other teachers from the same department, was also present for this event.

Objectives

- To encourage Impromptu thinking and speaking.
- To stimulate multi-dimensional thinking. By requiring students to argue For and Against a specific topic, it spurs candidate to think about an issue from multi dimensions, rather than simply adopting one approach. This is desirable because it allows for greater intellectual penetration on the topic proposed.
- To build confidence under pressure. Very often, students engaged in debates have to present compelling responses under pressure and should not waver on their points. Such situations provide a stimulus for building confidence under pressure, a skill which is crucial to survive in one's professional life.

Round 2 – Turn the Coat

The next round was held on the Friday 16th of February in the UG Building's Seminar Hall, from 14:00 to 16:00. Turn the Coat or Turncoat is an interesting format of debate where the speaker literally debates against himself. The speaker starts by taking a stance on the topic and switches sides after a specific duration of time or by taps. There may be multiple taps at regular or irregular intervals.

The candidate was called on stage and requested to select a chit of paper on which a specific topic was written. The candidate then had 5 mins to prepare on his assigned topic. He then had to come on stage and argue the pros and cons of that topic for duration of 3 minutes, during which a referee called for a 'switch' of stance at regular intervals (approx. 40 seconds). The student is then assessed on 4 criteria of: Fluency, Body Language, Content, and Presentation.

The event was judged by Mrs Sneha Singh and Mr Angel Chakraborty. The HOD of the Commerce & Management Department, Mr. Robert Utarid, as well as other teachers from the same department, was also present for this event.

Objectives

- To encourage Impromptu thinking and speaking.
- To stimulate multi-dimensional thinking. By requiring students to argue For and Against a specific topic, it spurs candidate to think about an issue from multi dimensions, rather than simply adopting one approach. This is desirable because it allows for greater intellectual penetration on the topic proposed.
- To build confidence under pressure. Very often, students engaged in debates have to present compelling responses under pressure and should not waver on their points. Such situations provide a stimulus for building confidence under pressure, a skill which is crucial to survive in one's professional life.
